COUNTY DRAWINGS FIRST IS NEW BETTER BABIES PLAN

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, March 18.—(Special.)—Plans for the next Better Bables contest at the Nebraska State fair are being evolved, and Mrs. M. E. Vance and her advisers are considering methods of handling the situation. The Better Babies department of the fair has broken all records, and has aitracted wide apread interest.

It has been suggested that the number of entries be limited to about 200. In order to bring this about two plans have been suggested. The first scheme is a series of county drawings. By means of these, the number of entries are reduced and the lucky ones allowed to compete at the state fair.

Another plan includes the services of county committee in each county to allminate a number of the contestants and reduce them in proportion to the number of entries. In this way the number of contestants at the state fair could be held down to about 300 and all the counties would have fair representation The infants eliminated from the contest would under this plan secure the physical

The Camera Makes the Picture We Make the Cuts

Sharp lines in a picture are the essential requirements for an etching on either metal, zinc or copper. It is almost impossible to make a good printing cut from a dim or blurred photograph. Very often our artist can by retouching the copy restore some of the pic-ture value, and in a great many cases can make improvements even in the best of photographs.

Bee Engravings

Are building up an enviable reputation for good work. Every day we receive words of praise for cuts that have pleased our customers. We try to make every engraving turned out of our plant speak a good word for us. If you have been paying out your good money for inferior work, now is the time to make a change We have thousands of good photograph negatives filed away from which you may select some good subject to illustrate your ideas. Write and tell us your wants, perhaps we can help you.
